GERMAN SPIES ABROAD IN ENGLAND

Old Fear of British Realized
With Breaking Out of War.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—All the predictions of the novelists are being fulfilled in the Anglo-German war. England, as they declared it would be, is full of German spies, and there is something like a panic among the authorities. German—many of them quite innocent—are being rounded up in hundreds every day. They are receiving short shifts, although nothing about the phase of the situation gets into the papers. An official in the vital statistics department told me that he had handled the death certificates of eight Germans who had been shot in the neighborhood of the great arsenal at Woolwich during the first week. Germans have been shot all around the coast, and a number who have been caught trying to wreck troop trains have been dispatched in the same way.

Every government building in London is guarded by sentries with rifles loaded and bayonets fixed. The General Postoffice is protected with steel netting to its first story to prevent bombs being dropped into the basement, and armed sentries guard every entrance and patrol the sidewalks in front of it.

London's water supply is guarded closely by territorialists. For days before the English public knew anything about the war, the water supply in France and Belgium, the Lincolnshire and the Bedfordshire regiments, took part in the gallant defense of Liege, and British troops were in France on August 8. After that date there was a steady flow to the Continent.

DRILL ARMY OF 500,000.

A newspaper courier who returned on August 10 from Ostend described the scene on the coast. His boat passed between two triple lines of small cruisers, torpedo boats and destroyers, while a dozen aeroplanes flew back and forward from coast to coast. In the lane thus formed great liners converted into troopships passed to and fro, laden with men from England and empty going back.

England has been practically the scene of regular troops and the home positions are held by the territorialists. Meanwhile the enrolling and drilling of the British reserve army of 500,000 is going on. Companies of men in civilian dress are drilling in every vacant space round London, and uniforms and arms are being served out as quickly as possible. The territorialists will be used to replace the regular troops. The military authorities are having the greatest difficulty in enrolling the 100,000 volunteers called for to complete the second army. Although they have been at it a week, the enrollments have averaged only 3000 a day, and now that the first rush of the sale of enrollment is bound to diminish.

Regiments are being made by Lord Kitchener and his staff, but the first call not meeting with the immediate rally to the flag that was expected, a most extensive and expensive advertising campaign has been set on foot. Full page of every London paper, and many of the provincial papers were taken over by the War Office, and enormous scale type announced that "King and Country" immediately followed the laggards. In addition to this, handbills were walking about London with sandwiches, informing eligible bachelors of the same thing. When it is realized that this is but the first call and that it is proposed to form another army of 500,000 men on a volunteer basis, it will be seen that the War Office is badly up against it.

What is the cause of this national lethargy? It was put to me today by the Berlin correspondent of one of the London dailies, who has just returned to London after being driven out of the German capital. He has many views that his London paper, nor would it dare print them if he did. But there is no harm in sending them to the United States, where public opinion is not so much affected by the conditions that are bound to effect English opinion.

"So much false news is being printed in London," said this correspondent, "that it is utterly impossible for the public to get any idea of the real situation. Everybody who knows anything about Germany and the Germans knows that this will be a terrific struggle. The people should be prepared for it, instead of which the newspapers here seem to be trying to give their readers the idea that it is a walkover for the Triple Entente, and the Germans are already licked before the real struggle has begun."

FIGHT TO BITTER END. I have just come through Germany after a residence in Berlin of many years. I have seen the Germans with an Englishman's eyes, but even that were not blinded to real facts. There is no room for doubt that the Germans are in this fight to the bitter end. They are ready, and are ready; the same cannot be said of any of the other great nations.

MISS ANNA KOEHLER.

The student body of Heald's Business College is arranging to give an informal dance on Saturday evening, September 12, in Maple Hall. During the spring semester two of these social hops were given under the management of the students and their success prompted the renewal of the affair this winter. Carl Clawson will act as floor manager, and the reception committee will consist of P. E. Curry, James McElroy, William Powell, Schmidt, Curtis H. Bent, C. DeVege, Miss Ruth Wickman, Miss Velma Gardner, Miss Mary Jensen, Miss Ruth Grennan, Miss Anna Koehler and Miss Alta Hartung.

COINCIDENCE TANGLES LETTERS ACROSS COUNTRY

PASADENA, Sept. 5.—The much quoted "long arm of coincidence" played a part in a banking and postal incident which has aroused much interest here. The National Bank of Pasadena addressed a letter to Assistant Cashier C. H. Bradley of Crown City bank at the Hotel, instead of going a few yards up East Colorado street, was delivered to a C. H. Bradley in San Francisco, 500 miles away.

How did that happen? That's the postal problem. More curious still is the fact that the C. H. Bradley in San Francisco is a cousin of the C. H. Bradley of Pasadena. The coincidence began 39 years ago through a mistake made in the delivery of their letters. History is certainly repeating itself with the Bradleys.

The Bradley of San Francisco, in returning to the Bradley of Pasadena the letter which traveled 500 miles in order to go two blocks, recalled that their acquaintance was brought about by his opening a letter in Pasadena which was sent for the other Bradley. "That was back in 1875," he remarks. The San Francisco Bradley thinks it is something of a coincidence that after a lapse of 39 years he should again receive mail intended for the Bradley of the Crown City at a distance of 2500 miles from the old stamping ground.

AGED BALLOT SHOWS BIG ELECTION CHANGES

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 5.—In striking contrast to the stale ballot in circulation at results of the recent primary election is the simplicity of a small document returned yesterday from among the archives of the county clerk's office. It constitutes the ballot of the last election held in the town of San Diego on June 15, 1880. The entire document, including returns, a list of registered voters and the certifications of the election officials, is a full folio page, and it is all hand-written.

There were 21 registered voters in the city, of whom ten were candidates for office. They were all elected and they all rec'd 21 votes each. Besides these, five more of the 21 were election officials, leaving six lonesome electors who had nothing to do but vote, for there was no campaigning. They were electing an alderman, or mayor, five councilmen, a marshal, a city attorney, an assessor and a treasurer. The document could have been prepared and filed half an hour after the polls closed.

TAKES OWN LIFE.

SANGER, Sept. 5.—A. M. Helms, a ranchman and the victim of a sensational story of the suicide of a man, Helms, 22 years old, who shot himself in the Antelope district near Medford, Oregon, in a fit of morbid depression. He was a nephew of Dr. J. L. Helms, formerly of Sanger, but now of Medford. The young man left three notes, all of which expressed weariness of life, one of which read as follows: "I think if a few more crazy fools would do this, the world would be better off."

RIDER IS INJURED.

MODESTO, Sept. 5.—Sam Rosenthal, horse breaker for George A. Cressie, is lying at the county hospital, suffering from concussion of the brain and severe injuries which he sustained last evening when a bit which he was riding attempted to dodge an auto and slipped on the pavement and threw the rider to the ground. The extent of his injuries will not be determined for several days.

Involved. I think all who know the men of the Continent thoroughly and have lived among them will agree that the German is the best man in Europe. He is a tough and a man of physique, spirit, pluck, staying power, brain and equipment. He is fitted in many ways to last through hard times that would kill most of the other races. He is a fighter, and about him starving to death is not a thing. There is no doubt in my mind that the German could stand a year of war so far as food is concerned. The only thing that will beat him will be superior numbers.

HELD FOR SHOOTING; PUT UNDER $1000 BOND

LODI, Sept. 5.—District Attorney E. P. Lodi is in Lodi this week conducting the preliminary examination in the case of the people versus Charles Gribble, who on August 12th, following an altercation over a wheelbarrow, in which he was alleged to have used a shotgun on a neighbor named E. J. Woods, Dr. J. E. Wilson testified that he picked out nine shots from underneath Woods' skin, but there were some forty shots that had been caused by the shot that did not pass through the body.

E. J. Woods testified that the wheelbarrow in question belonged to him. Gribble having borrowed it about a year ago, and that Gribble's sole claim to the barrow was due to the fact that he had repaired it. Woods also testified that the barrow was used for carrying some hogs belonging to Gribble broke out and killed some of his (Woods') turkeys. After argument, the defendant was bound over to the superior court for trial under $1000 bond.

RICH GOLD VEIN IS FOUND IN OLD MINE

PLACERVILLE, (El Dorado Co.), Sept. 5.—One of the most notable gold strikes made in this country in late years is authentically reported from the old Placerville mine, south of El Dorado, in a rich quartz country between that city and Plymouth. The proprietors are Polk Lovelace, W. H. James and Placerville. The gold vein is said to be nine feet in width and throughout it is said to be fine specimen ore. Its value will run from $100 to $500 a ton.

It is said that by tunneling and drifting the old vein was reached, and now the shaft is down to a depth of 150 feet. This strike is reminiscent of the pioneer gold days, and many prospectors have again gone over the country thereabouts investigating old claims and trying to locate new ones.

CORONER IS HERO.

MERCED, Sept. 5.—Coroner G. E. Nordgren was the hero of a runaway on the main street of this city and but for his feat in stopping the team, accidents may have happened further along the route. The frightened animals, Nordgren, in his automobile, got directly in front of the running team, and in a space of one block, by gradually slowing down his machine, he forced the horses to stop. He then got out and ran around the automobile, and the horses, seeing the coroner in the frightened animals, Nordgren, in his automobile, got directly in front of the running team, and in a space of one block, by gradually slowing down his machine, he forced the horses to stop. ## ANGELS BOMBARD FOUR SEAL TWIRLERS AND TAKE 6-5 VICTORY

No Thrills and Much Hitting Feature Typical Bush Exhibition.

By hitting four Seal pitchers at opportune moments, Los Angeles took San Francisco into camp by the score of 6 to 5. Both Del Howard's crew and the Angels hit the ball hard, the former getting eleven and the latter ten hits. Pennington started on the mound for San Francisco and the Los Angeles players, who made eight hits off him in five innings, Charles Cheek was but little more effective than the Seal twirler, and Rhankla succeeded him in the sixth.

COAST LEAGUE CHARACTERS IN BLACK AND WHITE (By Tack)---No. 5

Frank Dillon, otherwise known as the "Silver Fox" or "Grandpaw," it is said, began his baseball career some eighteen years before the birth of Christ. How authoritative this statement may be is not known, but THE TRIBUNE does not wish it's readers to take it as official. A more modern version of Dillon's advent into baseball is that he and Kid Mohler be-

WOLVES PLAY FAREWELL GAME FOR CAPITAL CITY FANS

League Leaders Take Game From Seals, Who Put Up Poor Scrap.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5.—Sacramento saw its last Coast League baseball game today and a handful of fans hoped their disgust at Portland's league leaders made a job of it. The expense of Sacramento's orphan wolves, Lou Stanley, pitched a two-hit game against the Beavers earlier in the week, and did not allow a hit until two men were out in the ninth. Today the Beavers balanced up accounts and pounded him for ten hits and seven runs in three innings, giving the North-erners the best part of a 9 to 2 victory.

The two runs on the short end of the score represent a bit of rubbing it in by the visitors from Portland. Up to the ninth not a man had gone beyond second off base, and only one had gone third. In the ninth the Beavers hit the ball and his fielders did the same, three singles and three gift steals netting two runs.

Great Western Power will take on a fast team recently organized under the name of Electric Star Club. The team will play at the Electric Star Club, which is located at the corner of Broadway and Wood. The team is composed of eight players, and will be managed by a former player of the team.

AMATEUR BASEBALL & SEMI-PRO BASEBALL Edited by Bill Crosby

The Boyle & Lawlor No. 3 team will take the Hastings Clothing Company of San Francisco at Bay View, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Manager Dutra has a strong line-up in the field at present and should give the visitors a hard time of it. He signed up another star player in Sprinkle, formerly of the Beavers league.

Billy Hart will be on the firing line, while Mason will do the receiving. Holdings and Joost will constitute the battery for the Hastings.

The Boyle & Lawlor will journey to Port Costa to tackle the last team of the season, the Port Costa team. This season has been going at a fast clip, having won the Contra Costa County League pennant. Much was due to the crack battery work of Williams and Crowley.

The Boyle & Lawlor will send their star battery of "Lefty" Laughlin and "Pop" O'Donnell to stop the winning streak of the country boys. Jerry Lawlor is anxious to win this game, and will have his regular line-up on the field. He claims they can't be stopped, as they have three straight victories.

MERCHANTS VS. AMBROSIO COLTS

Today at 2:30 p. m. at the State League grounds, Merchants and Ambrosio will play a game. Merchants have won the last game of the season, and Ambrosio has won the last game of the season. The game will be a close one, and the fans will be glad to see this game, as the G. S. M. boys have lost only four games this season. While the Ambrosios have lost only two games out of 25.

The lineups are as follows:

SAY-CITIES LEAGUE NOTES.

Berkeley Wagona have taken a winning streak, and it is hoped after their defeating such teams as Alameda, Hayward, Elgin and Oakland. Many of the new club members played formerly under Great Western Power's colors. The membership is not strictly limited to company employees. Manager Vicia, probably one of the ablest handlers of ball players, will cover the important details of this team. Let us hope this new club meets with success.

P. X. Weber now has full charge of the Great Western Power team and intends getting a faster team together for a winter league, composed of eight teams about the bay.

The Alameda Woodmen, Island City Camp, and the Elgin team are all looking for a game, and have a lot of opponents at Alameda park, the Carleton Club team of San Francisco, Alameda has strengthened up since her two last defeats. Elliott, another left-hander, will probably start for Manager Kneiss this morning.

The Ambrosio team journey to Niles to play the A. S. Indians of Niles, and the large crowd is expected to root for the Ambrosios. They will make the trip in a large auto bus. Benzelack will pitch for the Ambrosios and Kier will catch. The remainder of the team will be as usual.

"Baldy" Baldwin, Ambrosio's big league backstop, continues to be a shining light in the Tailors' line-up. Baldwin is a hard worker and is moreover a second Lafayette when it comes to slugging.

Al Furrier, who plays centerfield for the Ambrosio Tailors, has recovered his batting eye and is cracking out a couple of bingles regularly.

Ambrosio certainly has a ballplayer in this fellow Furrier, who holds down the difficult corner. Furrier is a wonderful fielder, and he hits the home run as hard as it can be hit. Last Sunday he slammed out three nice ones out of four trips.

The Ambrosio Tailors will cross bats with the Carnation Club team of San Francisco on Monday afternoon at Hawthorne playground, Fruitvale. The game is scheduled to start sharply at 2:00 p. m.

Peterson, Ambrosio's left fielder, is gaining quite a reputation as a pinch hitter. With no one on the base, "Pat" is slow with the willow, but just as soon as the base is populated, he becomes the most dangerous hitter on the team. Peterson is also playing a nice game in the field.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Ambrosio Tailors will play the New Era team at Hawthorne playground, Fruitvale.

Banta and Smale are two some batters for the Beck and Cabers. Banta has hit his stride and held the hard-hitting "Smiley" Smale of San Francisco to 4 hits last Sunday while Smale on the receiving end turned back 4 attempted

Accident With Sparring Partner Puts Deep Gash Above Easterner's Eye

The unfortunate injury sustained by George Chip, who was scheduled to meet Foughty Billy Murray in a boxing bout on Admission Day, has led to the postponement of the match. Chip was engaged in his regular training work with Charlie Horn as sparring partner, when the two boxers accidentally came together in a head on collision. The blood spurted from a cut above the right eye. The injury is not a serious one, and says he intends to collect the appearance money which was placed with Manager Coffroth by both boxers. Chip, however, is expected to be out of the ring for some time. If a substitute would be arranged, the match would be postponed. The previous meeting of the fighters, on the fourth of July, resulted in Murray's victory. The fight was a very close one, and the fans were very interested. The fight was a very close one, and the fans were very interested.

Some talk of a postponement has been made, but it is doubtful if Murray and his manager, Jack Kearns, will stand for putting the match off until a future date. Kearns believes that Dime is making the injury an excuse for calling off the match. He is not a reason, and says he intends to collect the appearance money which was placed with Manager Coffroth by both boxers. Chip, however, is expected to be out of the ring for some time. If a substitute would be arranged, the match would be postponed. The previous meeting of the fighters, on the fourth of July, resulted in Murray's victory. The fight was a very close one, and the fans were very interested. The fight was a very close one, and the fans were very interested.

Since that time the Pettala fight has repeatedly tried for a return match, stating that on their other meeting, he was not in condition. The improvement of Murray over his form of last time had aroused a great deal of interest among the fight fans, and it is greatly regretted that the match has been called off.

VALLEJO READY FOR CELEBRATION

Forty Thousand Expected to Attend Native Sons' Big Observance.

VALLEJO, Sept. 5.—Seventy parties representing forty thousand persons. Three days for festivity.

These are the elements of the Admission Day celebration of the Native Sons of the Golden West at Vallejo, beginning tomorrow and ending on Wednesday.

The Native Sons will take with them fourteen bands and twenty-five drum corps. There will be parades, picnics and every conceivable form of amusement. The plan is to make this three-day event a banner occasion in the long series of celebrations which the Native Sons hold.

By ballot, Frank Warren and Miss Hilma Lundberg have been chosen King and Queen of the festival.

Delegations will begin to pour into Vallejo today. The crowning of the King and Queen is set for Monday night at the conclusion of a monster automobile parade.

GREAT WELCOME READY.

On that occasion Mayor W. J. Turner of Vallejo will turn over to the Native Sons of Vallejo, together with the keys to the city.

The culminating event will be the big parade of September 8. All Native Sons and Daughters are asked to come from all over the State to help swell this march of the stars.

The committees in charge have done everything that is in their power to provide for the visitors. There will be plenty of room for everybody, as Vallejo will open all its doors.

Sealling the crowd will be people who have been visiting the agricultural fair at Santa Rosa, the Vintage Festival at St. Helena and the Rice Festival at Grizzly.

Arrangements have been made with the transportation companies for quick service from every point, and there will be no delays about handling the crowds.

BOOST FOR HIGHWAY.

MERCED, Sept. 5.—W. S. Ortiz, president of the Yosemite-to-Sea Highway Association, accompanied by L. A. Nares of Fresno, director of the State Auto Association, and J. H. McKelvey of Pacific Grove, visited this city to interest residents in a highway meeting to be held at San Jose September 12. They were taken about town by J. R. Graham of the Chamber of Commerce and left for Turlock and Modesto.

At the San Jose meeting a week from Saturday steps will be taken to assist in the building of a road over Pacheco pass, to provide a direct highway from Yosemite to the sea coast, and matters pertaining to the seeking of legislation for better construction and maintenance of highways.

CONSTABLE ACQUITTED.

MODESTO, Sept. 5.—Constable George T. Davis, who was accused of striking Ernest Schulman, a second hand dealer, and accusing him of handling stolen goods, has been acquitted in the justice court.

Bennett and his fiancée, Alice Cook, who are building a home. When the building operations began Bennett's close friend, Andrews, offered advice. So did Edna Mayer, Alice's dearest friend. But more and more of it, Alice's whole family and their appendages—and there were just nine of these Cooks in all—took a trip out to the suburb to decide how the house ought to be planned and arranged. More distractions come. Bennett's uncle, for when he works and from whom some day he expects a legacy, took a run out to look at the house. He was in a senerous frame of mind. He decided then and there that he would pay the bills and come to live with his nephew and niece. Gradually the meddling from all directions gets in its deadly work. From petty tiffs the young lovers begin to quarrel. Then come recriminations. At last they fall out altogether. In the end they drive out the busybody relatives and settle down in golden bonds to live happily ever after.

Special holiday matinees will be given tomorrow, Labor Day and Wednesday. Admission Day, the regular matinee on Saturday as usual.
Wonderful yet terrible—this expression of the impression made by "The Escape," shown in motion pictures for the first time at the Macdonough theater, Sunday, September 13.
In writing "The Escape," Paul Armstrong created what is conceded to be his masterpiece.
Before the actual story of "The Escape" is shown on the screen a wonderful epical history of life, showing the growth and breeding of various forms, is depicted. Some of these forms are shown for the first time in history.
The news that David Warfield will appear in Oakland at the Macdonough Theater during his forthcoming tour of the country will be interesting to local theater-goers. The play in which Mr. Warfield will be seen is a revival of "The Auctioneer," the comedy in which he made his first success thirteen years ago, and which laid the foundation of his great fortune. Last season David Belasco revived "The Auctioneer" with Mr. Warfield in his popular role of the lovable old Hebrew merchant, Simon Levi, and he had planned to present him in a new play this year. But the revival was received with such emphatic marks of artistic approval and the receipts were so sensational in the few cities that were fortunate enough to be included in the itinerary, that Belasco, in response to thousands of requests from theater-goers throughout the country, decided to continue the revival for this season, arranging a tour that would embrace only the principal cities in each section of the country.

ORPHEUM
The Orpheum bill for the coming week will be new from top to bottom, eight novel features being promised the patrons of the popular Twelfth street playhouse.
Possibly the most attractive number on the program will be Gus Edwards' Matinee Girls, an aggregation of pretty girls in light musical comedy, drilled by Edwards himself. The Matinee Girls are headed by Irene Martin, and introduce Charles OLCOTT, a vaudeville well known for versatility. The lyrics are by a trio of well known comic writers and the music is by Edwards.

Seven lyric and classic dances will be interpreted by Mlle. Maryon Vadie and a corps de ballet under the direction of Hans S. Linne. These dances have never been given before an American audience until Mlle. Vadie came on this side. The members of the ballet are all native daughters.
Another important feature of the program will be the appearance of Madame Helen Stiles, a California girl, who has sung with great success in Berlin, Paris and Vienna. She will sing popular selections from the operas and will be accompanied by Adolph Friede, who has acted as her conductor in grand opera on the continent. Friede is one of the best known conductors in Europe.

Maurice and Walton and the Castles have close competitors in Joseph Cole and Gertrude Benary, who will dance for the lovers of the art all of the up-to-date steps of the season this week.
Miller and Lyles, a team of black face comedians, will bring things up a bit, finishing with a burlesque boxing bout that is exceedingly funny.
The acrobatic feat of the week will be the Three Hickey Brothers, who open their act with a number of clever songs and a funny line of talk. They also do several good dances before going into their regular line of work.
Nadoly, known as "the assassin of sorrow," has the juggling act on the program. Burlesquing as a tramp, he shows such form throughout his act that he is rightly placed in the foremost ranks of clever jugglers. He has just returned from a tour of Australia, where he was regarded among the best of the comedy juggling fraternity that ever visited the Antipodes.

By popular request, Ann Tasker, the Oakland girl, known as "The California Nightingale," will come over for the week, taking the star role in Frank Piller's clever sketch, "Taming a Tartar." She will sing new selections this week, and will doubtless charm her audiences as she has done during the week just past. The usual run of exclusive motion pictures will round out the bill.

PANTAGES
Chas. J. Carter, acknowledged the foremost American magician and creator of sensational illusions, will furnish two of the eight acts on the new bill of vaudeville at the Pantages Theater for the week starting this afternoon. In the first place he has originated some new and startling feats of magic, for which he carries special scenery and a company of assistants and for the second act he will present an elaborate spectacle called "The Lion's Bride," which is distinctly Oriental in atmosphere. This illusion has a thrill in it and is acted in pantomime. The settings are colorful and there are some excellent dancing and unique scenic effects. The rescue of the maiden from the lion's den just as the huge beast springs at her is accomplished cleverly. Carter carries a handsome Nubian lion for use in this trick.

In addition to the two Carter acts, the new bill will have a number of other interesting features. For instance, Eddie Howard and company will be on the new program with their big time stream, "Those Were Happy Days," an act that possesses original wit, songs and dances. Howard will be recalled as of the funny team of Howard and North who were such a laughing hit here several years ago. For an added attraction there will be Mlle. Nadje, the physical culture girl and dubbed "the Venus of Vanderville" on account of her perfect form and beautiful face. Mlle. Nadje promises some out of the ordinary feats in physical culture. Bob Albright, handsome and popular and known as the tenor with the Melba tones, returns with a bouquet of new song compositions written for his exclusive use. Manager Pantages is personally responsible for the discovery of the big scream of the bill. It is that of the original New Orleans Creole orchestra, an octet of ragtime near musicians and colored comedians who are said to evoke strains of melody that would make a real musician return from the land of shades, however they make people laugh and so accomplish the result aimed at. Ross and Seunnen, the boy Caruso and a dainty violinist, provide the vocal and instrumental bit of the bill. Comic motion pictures complete what promises to be a very entertaining bill.

One of the interesting features of social life this winter will be the return of a number of women who have made their home abroad so many years that their connections with San Francisco have made her famous, both as a short story writer and later when expanded into a novellette. It was a best seller. Then came "The Rich Mrs. Burgoyne," another success. And "Saturday's Child" which has just finished serial publication has seemingly been read by every girl you meet. It has a San Francisco atmosphere which adds to its interest. Mrs. Norris will be widely entertained, for she has many friends here and her personal charm will win her many more.

The war in Europe has already made one hero. I refer to General Lemann, the brave soldier who directed the heroic resistance of Liege to the German forces. The stopping of the German onrush at Liege had consequences that we cannot appreciate fully at this time, but it is not too much to say that had it not been for General Lemann the Kaiser's troops might be in Paris by now. We all read two weeks ago of the daring cavalry raid into Liege made by the Uhlans for the purpose of capturing General Lemann and the Belgian general staff. But it has only just been discovered that the raid was brought about by a clever ruse of General Lemann's. The Uhlans rode into the city, and not one of them escaped without his life. Another ruse he also was successful. He prepared a field with mines to the north of the city, and then sent a small detachment of Belgians to the north of the field. The Germans fell into the trap, and attempted to cut off the small force. The current was switched on and the entire German force destroyed! An unsuccessful attempt was made to kill Lemann in the midst of the battle.—Town Talk.

When Blyde Vanderbilt was out here some time ago everybody remarked the growing beauty of her elder daughter. At the Fairmont, at Burlingame and at Del Monte the sweet grace of the girl was the subject of general comment. Now this young lady has received praise in New York, and as we are far from being indifferent to New York's opinion, we are pleased to hear that what we noted has also been noticed there. According to one bavard, this Vanderbilt belle "promises to eclipse her mother in beauty, tall and slender, with rich coloring and brown eyes and hair she is exceedingly attractive and seemingly quite simple and unspoiled." In other words, she is as sweet as her charming mother. Blyde Fair Vanderbilt was at her home—Town Talk.

Nob Hill is looking askance these days, I hear. The staid and respectable club is frowning, and the white granite, dignified family hotel is holding up its hands in holy horror—and why? Well, it seems that a certain bachelor made a great mistake in choosing his neighborhood, and instead of selecting the crest of the hill for his narrow, windowless home, he should have shored it down a few blocks; for the top of the hill stands for staid respectability and the certain bachelor does not—so I am told in hushed whispers.

It seems that he gives parties in his marble home lighted by skylights, and the noise from these parties wafts across the street to the windowless club, and fills through the bowdoin of the hotel, till the conservative members are made mad.

What the outcome of the affair will be nobody knows, for the bachelor swears he will not abandon his orchid dimers, and the hill-dwellers declare that they will not have their rents made hideous. It is a perplexing situation, made more difficult by the fact that the bachelor host is a pillar of the financial world.—Wasp.

The many friends of Madame Gadek in this city and one has many intimate friends among our society people as well as thousands of admirers among our immigrants will be interested in learning of her experience on the breaking out of hostilities in Europe. With her husband Madame Gadek was at Frankfurt the headquarters of the great Krupp establishment. Madame Gadek's husband is Lieutenant Hans Tauscher who is well known in San Francisco. Lieutenant Tauscher is the American representative of the Krupp company.

written with agony and Noah Webster believed to have turned over in his grave. For the official organ of the student body of the second largest university in the United States used "collapse" as a transitive verb. But the impatient editor of the boys' newspaper added that "at a late hour last night it was reported that the twelve professors were willing earlier and all were expected to live through the night." The physicians are allowing a copy of the Daily Californian to be brought within the infirmary—News Letter.

We are all wondering which one of the parents' dainty little Miss (thereover) Bodwin will make her debut with this evening—by clearing Ganem's way to a fair, idolized by both. Ever since the divorce of her father and mother she has divided her time rather equally between them, and now that both parents have returned there are always two welcome homes for her to choose between.

The Henry Bodwins are coming to town this winter, I believe, so they make room for her and the Irish Sympies are to occupy their luxurious apartments at the St. Regis, and are planning any number of lavish entertainments in her honor. Hard it is when a girl has no home to go to, but a better hard is it when she has two and no end of jealousy between them. The Ganemites, wherever the Misses will be one of the most sought-after belles for the season is very pretty, of a dainty, almost æsthetic type, and is very clever and has to talk to.—Wasp.

BE NATURAL- NOT POSEY!

Says
RUSSELL

At Unaffected,
Natural and Pretty Pose.

Be unaffected and natural and you'll be pretty!

Be "posey" and you won't be pretty! A young girl I know has wonderful coloring and features but she is so affected and "posey" every one says of her, "How unattractive!" Her sister's coloring is not so good and her features are uneven, but a frank, simple naturalness about her makes people exclaim, "What an attractive girl!"

I know a woman long past thirty whose coy and kittenish poses make her the object of much ridicule and deservedly so.

There is an "all in a heap" pose—a most familiar one—that girls fall into when they sit down that rounds the shoulders woefully. Then, there is the old, familiar "slinker-slootch"—not so prevalent now as six months ago but prevalent enough to cause far too many sunken chests, cramped lungs, protruding abdomens and rounded shoulders.

Just as fatal to chest, lungs, abdomen, and shoulders is the habit of half sitting, half standing on sofa arms or backs of chairs.

When you sit down push back in your chair as far as possible and keep your back straight from the hips to the neck; keep the chest high and if you must lean forward bend at the hips, not from the waist.

When you stand place your heels nearly together with your toes pointed slightly outward. Hold your legs rigid, your trunk and head erect, and your shoulders back far enough to allow for a free expansion of the chest. Let your arms hang easily and gracefully at your side.

(Copyright: 1914: By Lillian Russell.)

COMMON sense—just plain, ordinary, everyday common sense—is the safe, sure, and only cure for "posing." Use common sense when you walk. Use common sense when you talk. Use common sense when you sit. Use common sense when you stand.

After all, common sense and naturalness are one and the same thing. No one possessed of good common sense was ever accused of being a poser. Isn't that true?

If you stand with your head bent forward, your chest sunken, and your back rounded so that the shoulder blades hang outward the resulting attitude will express anything but common sense.

The natural and common sense way to stand is to place your heels nearly together, with the toes pointed slightly outward. Hold your legs rigid, your trunk and head erect, and your shoulders somewhat back so as to allow for a free expansion of the chest. Let your arms hang easily at your sides. If your standing position has to be maintained for any length of time one foot should be placed slightly in advance of the other, the weight being borne upon the straight leg and the active supporting foot; the other being relatively passive. Change to the other foot so that the two extremities may be brought alternately into play and in equal proportion. The most common defect in standing is making the same leg always bear the weight of the body when standing.

The common sense way to walk is not to "Mile slouch" or "slinker slouch," or to walk with the chin stretched out in a slanting position, nor with the lagging gait, nor the dragging gait, nor the slinking, shuffling gait, nor any of the other grotesque walks one sees on a day's jaunt. Walk with your toes pointed forward, not outward. Let each leg do its share of pushing the body forward. Many people in walking form the habit of using but one leg forcibly, while the other is practically swung forward with the pelvis. Of course that foot takes its turn upon the ground and supports the body, but it does as little work as possible. Let your legs move freely from the hips in a long, swinging step. The arms should hang easily, moving slightly but not swinging. If the movement of your arms be restrained the reaction will show in some twist of hips or shoulders. In walking, your chest and head should lead the rest of your body, as it does when you hurry forward. Be sure to carry your head high. Hold it as if you had every respect for yourself.

When you sit hold your head upright. Push back in your chair as far as possible before leaning forward. Sliding down and forward in your chair tilts the pelvis into a most harmful position. Of course the height and shape of the chairs have much to do with the sitting posture. It is almost impossible in some chairs to sit right. In such cases ignore the bad back of the chair and depend wholly upon your own. All leaning forward in a sitting position should be from the hips. Bending forward at the waist cramps heart, lungs, and chest.

Be common sensible in everything and you'll be attractive.

LILLIAN RUSSELL'S ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES BY BEAUTY SEEKERS.

W. L. S.: The epsom salts is mixed with a soap solution. Here is the formula: Dissolve a half pound of epsom salts in a pint of water. Shave fine one and a half bars of white soap, any pure white soap may be used, and dissolve that in a pint of boiling water. When partially cool, beat in the epsom salts solution. Massage this preparation heavily into the fleshy parts at night and allow it to dry on the skin. In the morning wash off. Continue treatment until the skin is clear. It is necessary to diet if you wish to reduce flesh. You cannot hope to reduce by eating all kinds of rich sweet foods. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a dietary for reducing flesh.

A. D. L.: If the hair is inclined to be dry it will often split at the ends. If the hair is split it will not grow. First you must singe or clip the ends of your hair. Massage your scalp each night before retiring and rub a good hair-oil into the scalp. Don't use a curling iron on the short hairs around your face. This will stop their growth. I shall be glad to send you a formula for a hair tonic with instructions for facial massage if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

H. M.: The finger nails should not be short nor long. The nails should come just about to the tips of the fingers. They should be filed at the corners and rounded gradually. The nails should not be filed pointed. A good plan when manicuring the nails is to follow the line of the finger. Don't use steel instruments under the nails, it roughens the delicate skin. If you care for instructions for manicuring send me a stamped, addressed envelope and I shall send them to you.

W. H. B.: The pores of your nose are clogged. The first thing to do is open the pores. Each blackhead on your nose is a clogged pore. Pressing out the blackheads only makes the pores larger and they quickly fill up again, so it does no good. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you the blackhead treatment. This will remove the blackheads and the pores will close. The proportions for the sulphur and molasses are one teaspoon of sulphur to two of molasses. Mix this together thoroughly and take a teaspoon of the mixture a half hour before breakfast. This will purify the blood and also help to clear the complexion.
